He is more personal than any of the others. He has a painter's fine draughtsman-ship, sense of design and color. Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

Hazel Dawn in The Heart of Jennifer was the feature attraction at the Auditorium theatre Monday, when the first haif of the week opened with good sized houses. A Circumstantial Scandal, a light comedy, was the other picture on the movie bill.

Heading the vaudeville programme were the Fair Co-ede, a musical comedy offering. In the cast were therevery pretty and attractive girls and three men. There was comedy in plenty and several excellent song numbers. The costumes were beautiful and the stage setting was appropriate to the act. Miss Sarnia, a pretty violinist pleased with several excellently rendered colos, her especial number being The Rosary, which was feelingly interpreted. The last number of the vaude-fille bill was zan imitation and comedian, George Siewart. He gave imitations of steamboat whistles, tug whistles, well known cries of the animal kingdom and touched off the whole with imitations of a number of musical instruments.

What it Really Means.

Nino-tenths of the American peeple never raw a birth certificate. Most of them who are past 49 years of age would find it impossible to get one. The German requirement of a bowth certificate or naturalization papers to pass through the country merely means that naturalized citizons may get through but that native ones cannot. New York Work.

NEW TREATMENT FOR SWOLLEN VEINS

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once. Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated. Apply night and morning with the soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

It is so marvelously powerful that swollen glands, and even goltre disappear when used steadily.

Norwich Housing Company Calls on Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce to Help in Pushing Campaign This Week-$10,000 is the Immediate Goal They Are Striving for.

Following up the start made in the public meeting last Friday evening towards raising more subscriptions towards the Norwich Housing company, so that it can do all that it wants to do to meet the expected demand for dwellings as soon as the Hopkins & Allen Arms company gets into operation, the directors of the Norwich Housing company held a meeting at 9:20 on Monday morning at the Board of Trade rooms in the Thayer building, at which they decided to call upon the Norwich Board of Trade and the Norwich Chamber of Commerce to unite with them in a concerted effort in a systematic and thorough canvass in the city

President Walter F Lester conducted the meeting which was attended by Shopard B Palmer, Daniel T. Shea, George S. Watts and John J. Corkery, who is secretary. It was felt that the merchants and the bankers and professional men generally would be the ones to be asked to subscribe as they are those who will be most largely benefitted by the development of the Hopkins and Allen Arms company.

It was reported in the meeting that there was an encouraging public sentiment towards the proposition as the result of Friday night's meeting and the directors feit there would be found many in the city now willing to subscribe and the proposition as the result of Friday night's meeting and the directors feit there would be found many in the city now willing to subscribe and had not been in that frame

Grand Rapids Puzzle. The art critic of the New York Sun-The art critic of the New York Sunday World writes: George Bellows, Swhose skill has ample inspiration and reward in current art, has just narrowly escaped fame as a futurist in Grand Rapids, Mich., owing to the hanging of his painting entitled The Blue Pool. Since Dec. 9 Grand Rapids has been enjoying an exhibition of the work of "twelve eminent American painters," among them Mr. Bellows. The examples are all good, but Mr. Bellows' presented itself as a riddle, and on that account caught and theid the public eye. No one professed held the public eye. No one professed to understand it, but it had arrived with a strong New York endorsement and hence it challenged the art intel-ligence of visitors.

There was a brown splash with gray There was a brown splash with gray edges in the center of the picture at the top, with interlardings of blue. Tiny specks of white flanked this sumhit. Colors ran in browns, grays and blues to the bottom. Grand Rapids society flocked to the picture daily and speculated on it. It was fast becoming a social issue, when a local art oracle and a visiting artist from Lyme, Conn., were invited to give their versions of the picture.

They pointed out that the brown splash at the top was doubtless a mountain and the white specks in the zenith a cluster of planets. It was explained that the eye must be spiritualized to interpret a futurist produc-

of an old man, and of the Queen, The

This explanation was so impressive that the school authorities sent class-es of children to the show to study Bellows.

es of children to the show to study Bellows.

Early in the last week a woman visitor at the exhibition complained to the managers that the Bellows picture gave her a headache. "Turn it upside down and let me see how it looks," she demanded. The managers yielded after protest.

Suddenly the brown splash that had been at the top settled at the bottom into a fine mass of natural rock, the overhanging white planet specks became they craft spreading their salls over an expanse of blue sea, a blue pool nestled within the rock shelter, and what had formerly looked like a bit of ragged blackish sky fell into a bottom corner, where it was easily read as the signature of Mr. Bellows.

As an example of futurism the picture had monopolized public attention and Bellows was an idol. The picture ceased to be the "whole thing" in the show as soon as it was turned the other way up and Bellows dropped from his lone estate. The other pictures in the show now have a chance to be seen, after hanging for nearly a month. Norwich. Rain Spoiled the Skating. Just as the youth of Norwich were

Just as the youth of Norwich were getting ready to enjoy a season of skating the rain of Monday arrived and spoiled it all.

A crowd of about 500 was on the skating pond at Mohegan park on Sunday while a number of those who wanted broader fields resorted to the big pond. The ice was about 5 or 6 inches thick on both ponds.

The big pond was all frozen over except a spot about 100 feet square which is kept open by the 44 mallard ducks which have their liberty now and are very tame, not being disturbed by the skaters who circled near them. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN, HOW TO GET RID OF Ranger in Court City of Norwich.

At the last regular meeting of Court City of Norwich, No. 68, Foresters of America, held in Foresters' hall, a plan was adopted for a membership campaign in which the three courts in this city will participate. Different departments of the work have been assigned different officers and the courts anticipate a considerable gain from the plan.

Four candidates were initiated under the new ritual and ten applications were received.

KNIGHT OF MALTA IN

FULL RITUALISTIC FORM To Be Worked for First Time in Columbian Commandery, K. T.

An event of particular importance to the sir knights of Columbian commandery, No. 4, K. T., and their guests is to be enjoyed at the Masonic temple on Wednesday evening when there will be witnessed the exemplification of the order of the Knight of Malta, with the full elaborate ritualistic accessories and proper dignity that accords with this degree. It will be the first time that the degree has ever been presented in full form in this city.

The Malta corps of officers who will present the work comprises: An event of particular importance to present the work comprises; Eminent Prior — Em. Sir James C. A DASHING HAT OF

Lieutenant Commander — Em. Sir
Albert S. Comstock.
Captain General—Em. Sir Nelson J. Ayling.
Prelate—Em. Sir E. Allen Bidwell.
Marshal — Em. Sir George E. Par-

Geer, Sir Guy B. Dol-beare, Sir J. Oliver Armstrong. Trumpeters—Sir Aubrey W. Jarvis, Sir James A. Parker.

Trumpeters—Sir Aubrey W. Jarvis, Sir James A. Parker.

Sentinel—Sir James C. Fitzpatrick.

The possibility of Columbian commandery having this degree exemplified in full form was presented at the conclave on Christmas day, the ritualistic accessories for the degree having recently become the property of Columbian commandery by gift from one of its eminent sir knights, and the working of this degree in full ritualistic form will constitute the crowning achievement of the present administration of Columbian commandery.

The Malta degrees are appendant to those of the Temple, the two preceding being that of Illustrious order of the Red Cross and that of the Temple. The ritual and ceremony of the Temple degrees are familiar to every sir knight, but the Malta degrees in full form are seldom seen. Because of the symbolic and historic value, these degrees are among the most ceremonious and detailed in Masonry. The Malta corps of Washington commandery, No. 1, Hartford, is the most notable exponent of the work connected with the degrees in the entire country, the same group of men having worked together in conducting it for many years, and having exemplified in several different states. This Malta corps has been the only one in the state and in New England that has exemplified the degrees in full form and it will be an innovation to have a Malta corps in Norwich.

This beats shampoos or head washes which merely drive away dandruff for a few days at most. Lee & Osgood and a number of other better druggists in this vicinity are now strongly recommending a harmless, inexpensive and quick acting preparation called Parisian Sage that they say is guaranteed to act directly on the cause of dandruff and which already has become known far and wide as a safe and efficient treatment which cannot possibly injure hair or scalp. Here is a test worth trying. Get a package of Parisian Sage, Rub a little of it into the scalp with the finger tips and see for yourself how the dandruff disappears, the hair stops falling out, the itching vanishes, and a new and vigorously healthy appearance comes over the hair. Good looking hair is half the battle in any man or woman's personal appearance and nothing hurts the hair more than dandruff. Try a little Parisian Sage and begin at once to be rid of it.
